Inaugural Address

By Mayor WILLIAM K. KIMBALL

To the Members of My Council and the Citizens of Rochester:

My address to you this morning will be short, as I believe it is not what we say, but what we do that counts; it will consist partly of a review of the proceedings of the year 1921 which is now history, and a few recommendations for the year 1922 upon which we are now starting.

I think you will all agree with me, that we have tried to run the administration on good sound business principles, although we have made some mistakes, which we are free to acknowledge, but we hope to do better the coming year.

FINANCE

This is the first and most important question that comes to us, and if you will examine this report, it will give you in a clear, and concise form the financial condition of our city. Your finance committee worked hard last year to keep the tax rate down; you all well know that it was lowered $4.00 per thousand, which gave us the lowest rate of most any of our cities in New England.

This year with some of the requirements which I think our city needs, we may ask to raise it a little; our financial statement to January 1st, 1922, is as follows:

FINANCIAL STATEMENT, JANUARY 1, 1922

Municipal Highway Bonds	35,000 00

		$14,150 47

Net indebtedness, exclusive of Water Bonds	$207,909 88

As a sinking fund there is deposited to the credit of Water Bonds outstanding

Municipal Bonds	$28,000 00
Sundry Bonds	$97,000 00

Increase of debt during 1921, exclusive of Water Bonds	$25,840 15

POLICE DEPARTMENT

Too much cannot be said in praise of the efficiency of our police department, and our officers are to be commended for the gentlemanly, and business-like manner in which it has been conducted; also the good financial balance that is shown at the end of this year. Our city marshal recommends another night man as the night is the time we need the most protection.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

Everyone knows that we have a good fire department, as far as the men that belong to it goes, but, are we as citizens giving them the proper support in matter of equipment and apparatus to work with? We have one fine motor-truck, which has done splendid work, and no one can tell the thousands of dollars it has saved the city, but I do not believe that we should risk so much property on one piece of machinery that might balk at the time when it was most needed. In this department I am going to suggest that our appropriation be made larger so the men can have something to work with for our protection.

SHADE TREES, PARKS AND COMMONS

In this department we have tried to do as much as we could to provide a place for recreation, and to keep the parks and trees, in as good condition as possible with the small appropriation we have had to work with. It seems to me that a little more money spent on the grounds for recreation keeping them up would be greatly appreciated by the citizens and more especially by the children.

ROADS, BRIDGES AND DRAINS

Last year I stated that this was a much-talked of, and a much-criticised department, and this last year has been no exception to the rule especially in regard to finance. With the excellent road machinery that the city now owns, we have been able to build eight or ten miles of good graveled road, resurfaced a lot of other roads, besides doing considerable work for the State. We have regraded and surfaced with hot asphalt top from Main Street, beginning at the Post-office, through Bridge, River, and Lafayette Streets to the Fair Grounds, from Main through Union to Wakefield Street, down one side of Wakefield Street, connecting with the Square, from City Hotel to the Wallace Crossing, Walker bridge between the city and Gonic, Portland as far as Wallace Street, and through the Central Avenue to Hanson Street, giving our business section pretty nearly a permanent road. We have put in a large amount of surface drains and granolithic walks, replanked two of our main bridges with four-inch plank, and also a number of culverts and small bridges have been repaired.

WATER

In this department there is but little I have to say; we have a bountiful supply of good water. It is on a good paying basis and well managed. As you are all well aware we have some recommendations in this department from the Insurance underwriters which will demand our attention as soon as we can get to them.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

I think our public schools compare favorably with any city of its size. It might be of interest to some of you to know that nearly one-third of our total appropriation goes for the support of our schools, and I do not think we should complain at that, for what would our community and future generation amount to without them. We are a progressive people and cannot go backward, neither do we wish to.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

Our library is another educational institution that should receive our hearty support financially, and otherwise, under the efficient work of our Librarian, and her corps of assistants; they have been able to keep up its high standard of excellency, and very satisfactory to the Board of Trustees.

CONCLUSION

At this time I want to thank each member of the Council for his hearty co-operation toward me, and the members of the highway and purchasing committees, which has enabled us to purchase the nice road equipment that the city now owns, and with which we have been able to make so good a showing. I feel that I can rely on your utmost support for our economical and business-like administration of the affairs of the city for the year 1922.

PROTESTING AGAINST THE PASSAGE OF SMITH-TOWNER BILL

Hon. George H. Moses, Senator

Hon. Sherman E. Burroughs, Congressman

GENTLEMEN:—

As members of the City Council of the City of Rochester, we protest against the passage of the Smith-Towner Bill and respectfully request you to present to Congress the enclosed resolution adopted at its first monthly March Meeting, which resolution is hereby endorsed and approved.

RESOLUTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF ROCHESTER, N. H., AGAINST THE PASSAGE OF THE SMITH-TOWNER BILL

WHEREAS: The creation of a Federal Department of Education will add enormously to the burdens of the Federal Treasury, will increase present taxes and greatly enlarge the number of federal employees. The bill as framed is indirectly equivalent to a certificate of incompetency to all the superintendents of education of the various states of the Union.

The Federal control of education is, to say the least, against the spirit of our Constitution. It is undemocratic in that it aims to centralize at Washington, all matters pertaining to education. It is socialistic in that it is based upon the false theory that the right to educate children belongs to the state and not to the parents.

We contend that the majority of the people is opposed to the passage of such a Bill.

We do not approve of the interference by the Federal Government with our educational system, State or Municipal.

We highly condemn the introduction of politics into matters educational.

We feel that the States are fully able, financially and otherwise to support their schools, to adequately compensate their teachers, and to properly teach the doctrine of true American Citizenship.

We believe that the remedy to illiteracy lies in a more rigid enforcement of state laws, in the opening of new evening schools and that persuasion will do more than compulsion for the education of our citizens.

We deny that the knowledge of spelling and writing is essential to good citizenship; in this connection we unhesitatingly invite an investigation of the literary attainments of those of our citizens who died during the late war on the battlefields of Europe. In this connection also, we submit that the agitators, the traitors, the anarchists, the bolshevists which the country has known in the past two or three years were, generally speaking, men highly educational.

We therefore regret the uneasiness brought about by the Smith-Towner Bill throughout the length and breadth of our country, and we respectfully urge our Representatives, both in the House and Senate, to oppose its passage.

Passed March 1, 1921.

SECT. 2. Whoever violates any of the above provisions shall be fined not exceeding ten dollars.

Passed March 1, 1921.

Report of

Superintendent of Water Works

For the Year Ending December 31, 1921

To the Committee on Water Works:

Gentlemen:—The thirtieth annual report of this department is herewith submitted:

Source of supply during the year: Round Pond. This pond has given us a good supply of first-class water; also better pressure for our hydrants. Samples are sent frequently to the state chemist, Mr. Howard, and favorable reports are received. Mr. Howard and Mr. Poole, state inspector and the state engineer, inspected the source of our supply in June and were well pleased with both bodies of water.

The stand pipe at Adams Corner was cleaned and painted the past summer and the tank is in good condition; very little rust was found on the bottom sheets.

We have lowered the six-inch main on Walnut hill and we removed the hydrant and re-set same on side of street that the water main is on.

Lowered six-inch main on Washington Street hill to Cleveland Street and we are in hopes these places will not give any more trouble.

A large amount of construction work was given us late in the fall, but we were able to finish the same before the frost went very deep.

Construction is as follows:

Off Winter Street, opposite Wallace Street 2-in. Galv. W. I. pipe	158 feet
Franklin Street, 2-in. Galv. W. I. pipe	659 feet
Wentworth Ave., off Portland Street, 1-in. Galv. W. I. pipe	185 feet
Off Lafayette Street, near Fair Grounds, 1-in. Galv. W. I. pipe	180 feet
Country Club ground, off Church Street, Gonic, 1½-in. Galv. W. I. pipe	702 feet
Madison Ave., off Washington Street, 1-in Galv. W. I. pipe	484 feet, 6 inches
R. R. Ave. and Dover Road, Gonic, 2-in. Galv. W. I. pipe	4,363 feet
So. Main Street and Harding Street, 6-in C. I. pipe	129 feet
2-in. Galv. W. I. pipe	691 feet
Oak Street, Gonic, 1-in. Galv. W. I. pipe	307 feet, 9 inches
Total	7,859 feet, 3 inches

Total laid to date, 35 miles, 2,999 feet, 3-inches.

In addition we removed 814 feet of old 1½-inch pipe on Church Street, Gonic; replaced same with 6-in. C. I. pipe, and installed hydrant opposite Joseph Warren estate.

This amount of construction furnished work to a large number of men and has helped them as well as the department.

Number of hydrants installed 1

Removed leaking Coffin hydrant on Knight Street; replaced some with Corey Steamer type.

Report of

Chief Engineer of Fire Department

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

In rendering my report of the Fire Department for the year ending December 31, 1921, I would state that we have been very fortunate this year in not having many serious fires, but we may not always be as fortunate, therefore, it stands us in hand to be prepared for whatever emergency may arise by having up-to-date equipment.

There have been fifteen bell alarms, eighty-three still alarms, mostly chimney fires, fifteen brush and forest fires, in the city proper, three bell alarms, seven still alarms at East Rochester, one bell alarm, six still alarms at Gonic, making a total of one hundred and thirty alarms for the year.

The amount of property involved is as follows:

Value of buildings	$307,750 00
Insurance on same	279,500 00
Losses paid	9,256 70
Value of contents	53,313 00
Insurance on same	23,830 00
Losses paid	5,554 24

The amount of property involved in fires outside the hydrant services is as follows:

Value of buildings	$1,500 00

Insurance on same	$3,000 00
Losses paid	1,107 25
Value of contents	2,000 00
Insurance on same	1,000 00
Losses paid	306 00

The motor truck has responded to one hundred and fourteen alarms this year, seven of these fires have been where some parts of the buildings were afire and was put out by the use of chemical, thus saving water damages.

We would recommend that the city purchase a triple combination pumping engine chemical and hose car; the city has the water, but not the pressure to fight a large fire.

The hind wheels on our hook and ladder truck are in bad condition and the ladder is in the same condition. I think this matter should have your consideration before someone gets hurt.

We recommend the purchase of two small motor trucks for Cocheco and Torrent Stations. It is almost impossible to get horses when we have an alarm. A good many of our citizens approve of this recommendation.

We have improved the fire alarm system some this year. We have put up new wire on Portland street, from the railroad crossing to box No. 35, and half way down Silver street; also from Cocheco Station to Jackson street, and we have a box, No. 38, to be placed on Glenwood Avenue.

In behalf of the Fire Department I will take this opportunity to extend our sincere thanks to all those who have been so kind and have given to the department to show that they appreciate their good work.

In behalf of the Board of Engineers I will take this opportunity to extend our sincere thanks to all the officers and members of the fire department for the promptness with which they have discharged their duties during the past year.

In conclusion we wish to extend our thanks to the Mayor and City Council for what they have done to assist the department during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN F. NUTE,

Chief Engineer of the Fire Department.

Report of the City Solicitor

To the Honorable City Council of the City of Rochester:

It is with sincere pleasure and satisfaction that I am again able to report that the City during the whole year has been, and is now, entirely free from litigation. And although there has been great advancement in permanent improvements it is a subject worthy of public commendation that the officials have so conducted the municipal affairs that no serious disputes have arisen, or lawsuits been brought.

The wave of law violations and crime that seems to be passing over the country has not as yet seized upon your City. The many successful prosecutions and ever faithful and vigilant efforts of the police department is the greatest safeguard against an invasion of this unlawful band, and of the greatest protection of our homes and property.

The kindly cooperation of all departments with each other has materially aided to facilitate and make success of the City's business, and has made the discharge of the City Solicitor's duties a pleasure, for which he is very grateful.

Respectfully submitted,

ELMER J. SMART.

Report of

Library Trustees

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

Gentlemen:—The twenty-eighth annual report of the trustees of the Rochester Public Library is respectfully submitted also the librarian's and treasurer's reports, for the year ending December 31, 1921.

The report of the librarian will give in detail what has been accomplished during the year.

The trustees would call your attention to the number of volumes circulated, 73,616. An increase of 6,844 over last year indicating an increasing interest on the part of the public.

We would also call your attention to the number of volumes repaired at the library by the employees, 9,618. This has required a large amount of time and labor on the part of the library staff. You will see that their work does not consist simply of the exchange of books over the counter.

During the coming year steel shelving must be purchased to accommodate the books in the library.

The trustees wish to express their thanks to Mr. Willis McDuffee for the portrait of Mr. J. Edgar McDuffee, the first secretary of the board of trustees; also to Mrs. Nellie Farrington McDuffee for the portrait of her father; also to John Young for his portrait. The trustees have been able to secure a portrait of the late Josiah H. Whittier of ward one. Mr. Whittier gave much of his time toward the organization of this library as did all of the men above mentioned and it was largely through their efforts and interest that the library was established 28 years ago.

The trustees would also express their thanks to the Mayor and Council for the new slate roof placed on the library building during the past year and would call their attention to the need of repairs or a steel ceiling in several of the rooms where the plaster has fallen owing to leaks in the roof.

The trustees are gratified at the increase in circulation and attendance and wish to express their appreciation of the attention shown to the patrons of the library by the librarian and her assistants during the year.

For the Trustees,

JOHN YOUNG,

Secretary.

December 30, 1921.

Report of Librarian

To the Trustees of the Rochester Public Library:

Gentlemen:—I herewith present a report of the growth and activities of the library for the year, ending December 31, 1921.

In this annual assembling of facts and figures there are really only three things which concern us:

First. What the library is.
Second. What the library does.
Third. What the library should do.

In order to gain some idea of these essentials it is necessary to wade through a mass of uninteresting figures, that by means of comparison a true estimate may be obtained.

A library is not only an arranged collection of books but it is also the building where such a collection is kept. Then, in order to know about this particular library which interests us, we must consider not only the quantity and quality of its additions but find out how it fares with the building.

At the last report the library numbered 21,772 volumes, since then, 894 volumes have been added by purchase, by gift, or by binding magazines; 46 volumes have been lost, destroyed or worn out, making a net gain of 848 and the estimated number in the library at this time, 22,627.

In 1905, when the building was opened to the public, it was thought that the shelving would be adequate for twenty years. Sixteen years have passed and there is hardly a foot of unused shelf room; already books are piled on books; the card catalogue case is packed to overflowing and the current magazine rack has given up in despair, the impossible task of holding all the necessary magazines.

During these sixteen years, 333,114 readers have used the rooms and enough people have come and gone to carry away and bring back a million books. This has meant wear and tear on furniture and floors but not a dollar has ever been spent in restoration.

What the library does—can be told in part by the figures of circulation and readers. The 73,616 volumes given out during this year, the largest number in its history, an increase of 6,844 over a year ago, represents only a small part of the work of circulation. These same books have come back, possibly some had to be sent for because kept out much more than the allotted time; many of them put in repair or rebound before they were fit to go out again and careful records had to be made that each book might contribute its quota to the circulation of the year or be traced at a moment's notice. Among the books circulated you will notice much popular fiction; many serious or standard novels, as well as books required for school work and the best children's books obtainable; nonfiction, from the eleven different classes; reference books; and a few pamphlets. Books have gone into the homes of the rich and the poor, into the school and onto the farms, to eight of the near-by towns, to the beaches, the mountains and to many places unknown to the library staff, and not one has been lost in transit.

The rooms have been used freely by pupils and readers. Owing to the great congestion in the reference room it has been necessary to limit school students to the afternoon, thereby giving the adult population an opportunity to use the room in the evening. 21,334 readers and students have been reported.

One of the great possibilities in library work is opening up ways in which those living outside the city limits may take books easily. The agencies at Gonic and East Rochester show appreciation of books in their particular sections. Gonic reports a circulation of 2,021, and East Rochester 2,061. The little house station at the home of Mr. John Allen and under the care of Miss Bertha Allen, demonstrates even more fully what a collection of books may mean to a neighborhood. During eleven months 321 books were given out to less than 40 people. More than 8 per person. It is a pity that more of these house stations could not be opened up.

Another proof of the usefulness of the library is its popularity with the children. Years ago, a popular pastime with boys and girls was playing school. The school has now a rival in the mind of the child, for today he plays library, and mothers say, that the books of the household are being pasted and dated in true library fashion.

To the loyal young patrons of the library, 21,607 books have been given out, an increase of 2,710 over last year and 11,386 readers have been counted in the room.

During the year 19 afternoons have been devoted to the children. One, a drawing lesson given by Mr. Davis; another a talk on flowers by Mrs. Small, illustrated by her splendid collection of mounted specimen which she so kindly gave the library a few years ago; five story hours in which the library staff was assisted by Mrs. Bodge and Miss Smith; six programs furnished by the children themselves; six guessing contests. Several of these contests have received mention in local and state library news and one, the contest of the presidents, held on inauguration day, received honorable mention in the Boston Transcript as well as a national magazine of the library world. The vacation reading contest and the children's book week program were again carried out with gratifying results.

That you may obtain a still clearer idea of what the library is and has done during the year I would refer you to the various tables of statistics which are a part of this report.

"What the library should do" is, perhaps, the most important thing of all, for it has to do not only with the past and the present and their relation to the future but with its ideals as well.

It has already been proved that the library is one of the most important institutions in the city. It is well in the foreground in the minds of a great many of the citizens, but it cannot remain there without the expenditure of much time, much money and much thought. Each citizen has a certain responsibility toward making this institution what it should be. It not only needs support but it needs loyalty—that loyalty which will make each individual demand of it the most and the best. A library grows along the lines of the greatest demand.

The visions for the future embody in practical shape more careful growth, increasing demand, greater usefulness; the lecture room made over into a large reference room, an enlarged stack room; a children's room in the basement with its own entrance; better office equipment; and a dressing room for the library staff. These would tend to greatly increase the value of the library, its usefulness and its future outlook.

I would again at this time express my very great appreciation to the entire staff of assistants whose hard work, painstaking efforts and hearty co-operation have helped to make the year successful and again thank the trustees for their encouragement and support in every good work.

Respectfully submitted,

LILLIAN E. PARSHLEY,

Librarian.

Report of

Superintendent of Schools

To the School Board of Rochester:

I herewith submit to you, and through you to the citizens, my third annual report, it being the thirtieth in the series of such reports.

BRIGHT SPOTS OF THE PAST YEAR

Getting Them There

During the school year, 1920-21, we improved the average daily attendance and decreased the average daily absence, thereby raising the per cent. of attendance from 92.5 (for the preceding year) to 93.6. Moreover the number of tardinesses last year was only 1,378 as compared with 2,226 in 1919-20.

Hammering on the Three R's

We are still emphasizing reading, writing, and arithmetic because these are the tools by means of which further education is acquired and the work of life is transacted. We know that we have made progress in all three because the progress is measurable and has been measured. In primary reading instruction in phonics has been resumed. This is proving helpful. In handwriting pupils are being taught individually to correct their own peculiar errors. Their writing is frequently compared with a standard scale for scoring. Tests given in all the schools show steady improvement. In arithmetic pupils are drilled daily on the four fundamental processes in addition to work on problems. Three months of intensive drill on the four fundamental processes in the spring of 1920 resulted in a large increase of pupils who were 100 per cent. efficient in this type of work.

Improving the Schoolhouses

A long stride was taken in putting the schoolhouses in first class condition. Needed repairs had been postponed for one reason or another until a rather large list had accumulated. The most important repairs done in the several buildings were as follows:

Allen School

Slate blackboards in two rooms	$156 46

School Street School

Roof patched	34 77
Slate blackboards on one side of each room	308 82
All the inside walls painted. (These walls had never been painted)	200 00
Fire-exit bolts on outside doors	42 34

Maple Street School

Old wooden interior blinds replaced by curtains	50 00

Gonic School

Cement walk around the building. (The old tar walk was broken to pieces)	558 00
New locks on outside doors	30 00

East Rochester School

Building painted outside	500 00
Ell next to street shingled	409 90

Meaderboro School

Windows were put in the entire length of the left hand side of the room. About six feet from the opposite side a partial partition was erected with a blackboard on the side next to the class and coat hooks on the back side. The pupils now have plenty of light and their outer clothing in winter is warm. (These wraps formerly were hung in a cold entry)	118 73

High School

New cement floor in boys' basement. (The old one was so broken and rough that it could not be kept clean)	315 36

In addition to the above, adjustable seats and desks have just been purchased to replace the non-adjustable kind in four rooms, and two other rooms have been cared for by transferring the adjustable desks from the two unused rooms at Gonic. Moreover twenty of the Gonic desks which were left over were placed in two other rooms where pupils were sitting in ill-fitting, non-adjustable seats. There has not yet been time to put all the desks in place but when this program is completed 254 pupils will be occupying desks and seats which can be adjusted to fit them. Nothing is worse for a growing child than to be compelled to sit five hours a day in a seat which is too large or too small. A continuous incorrect posture makes permanent physical deformities. A school authority which compels a child to attend school is certainly bound to furnish that child hygienic conditions as well as competent instruction. Under the plan now inaugurated our School Board will purchase each year adjustable furniture for three rooms. The Gonic School was the only one completely equipped with adjustable seats and desks. Three rooms in the Allen School and one at Maple Street were also so equipped. More than two-thirds of the seats in the elementary schools were non-adjustable. Sometimes the pupils fitted the seats; there were always some who didn't. They had to sit in them anyway because neither the pupil nor the seat could be altered. If the present plan is carried out every pupil will in five years be happy and comfortable in a seat which is adjusted to his particular stature.

KEEPING WELL

The medical inspection of the pupils is efficiently followed up by our nurse, Miss Frances Eastman. She visits the houses of those who are found to have any defects. Last year she made 903 such visits. Of the 1168 children in the public schools who were examined last spring 806 were found to have physical defects, chiefly teeth, tonsils, and adenoids. This medical examination and the visits of the nurse resulted in 203 children having all their defects remedied and 314 receiving some attention.

A temporary hospital was established last summer at the High School, equipped by the Red Cross. Here 47 pupils had their tonsils or adenoids removed. The local physicians co-operated whole-heartedly in this project. The fee was made very low and was paid by the Red Cross for those unable to pay it themselves. Several more cases were treated at the city hospital.

An arrangement has been made with the Rochester Visiting Nurse Association to have the nurse devote more time to school work. The School Department will increase its payment to the association from $250 a year to $600. She will do more follow-up work and supervise instruction in hygiene in the schools. It is planned also, when each building is equipped with a scale, to work with underweight children, guiding them in their diet and mode of living in order that they may attain their full measure of health. Such a program must be carried out if we are to do our full duty by the children. If we are to educate a child at all, we certainly must teach him how to keep well and strong as well as give him knowledge.

EVENING SCHOOL

This part of the school system shows a healthy growth. On the opening night 144 people enrolled. Last year the registration on the first night was 93 and the year before it was 67. The total enrollment during the first year of the evening school in the winter and spring of 1919 was 60. The total enrollment this year is 219.

The evening school is now organized in two departments: the elementary, which gives instruction in the English language, arithmetic, reading, and writing: and the secondary, which gives instruction in typewriting, shorthand (Gregg system), cooking and sewing.

About one-third of those who enroll in evening school leave during the year. A large number of these did not enter with a serious purpose. They came out of curiosity or for a good time and when the work became arduous they fell by the wayside. (Some, of course, leave only because they are forced to do so by adverse circumstances, with not the least discredit to themselves.) When these enrolled provision had to be made for them in the way of supplies and books as well as instructors. This expense is a waste since such pupils remain but a few nights. In order to eliminate these I recommend that a nominal fee be charged to pupils in the secondary department most of it to be returned at the end of the year if the attendance has been regular. This would not exclude any person who really wants an education. No fee would be charged those of foreign parentage who come to learn the English language. This part of the school is a legal requirement; the secondary department is optional.

WORKING TOGETHER

Our corps of teachers has again passed through the "open hunting" season of summer with few losses. This is not due to lack of hunters, for superintendents from afar came to take our teachers away from us but usually returned empty-handed. The schools are therefore in the hands of competent instructors familiar with the situation in Rochester. Moreover there is a splendid spirit of co-operation among all who are concerned with our schools, from the School Board down to the pupils.

Teachers' meetings are held regularly, the teachers being divided into three groups, primary, intermediate, and grammar. Each group meets every month. These meetings have proved valuable in co-ordinating the work of the several sections of each grade. Difficult problems are discussed and ideas are exchanged about classroom procedure.

HIGH SCHOOL

The High School is approaching its normal size again. The enrollment steadily increased up to the war, reaching 302 in 1915. Unusual opportunities for employment during the war induced many young people to give up education. Now that temptingly high wages have disappeared boys and girls are returning for an education which in the long run will bring larger financial rewards than they would receive with less schooling. The figures below show the total enrollment in the Rochester High School for the past ten years; also for 1901, the year when the present building was erected:

1901,	135
1911,	219
1912,	236
1913,	275

1914,	296
1915,	302
1916,	278
1917,	252
1918	253
1919,	256
1920,	272
1921	300

We ought to retain in school a larger percentage of the grammar school graduates and doubtless will do so when people realize more fully the value of a trained mind, and when our high school courses are made more attractive and adapted to the needs of the pupils. There is a strong trend now toward higher education. All over the land new and spacious buildings are arising. Colleges are overwhelmed with applicants for admission.

The time is at hand when Rochester will need to erect a new high school building, not merely because of the increased enrollment, but because educational advance has outgrown the present building. This is not a new situation. Rochester has found it necessary in the past to provide new high school buildings in 1875, 1883, and 1901. The present building is just twenty years old. It makes no provision for mechanic arts, or drawing. There is no gymnasium for physical training and indoor games. These are subjects which have developed in the period since this High School was erected. All progressive communities, small as well as large, now freely give their boys and girls this kind of education and erect new buldings for the purpose. Years ago when only the favored few attended high school, the subjects of instruction were limited to the requirements of college admission. This was about the only known kind of education. Now pupils from all walks of life, with all varieties of purposes, or none at all, come in ever increasing numbers to our high schools. The course of study must needs be likewise varied. It must be democratic not autocratic. The pupils who need manual education have just as strong a claim on our schools as those who want the old type of mental training.

The management of the High School under Headmaster Ross is very efficient. The discipline is excellent; pupils are rigidly held to certain responsibilities, chances for "getting by" are greatly reduced and pupils are being led to see that school is a business not a pastime.

Next year there will probably be 335 pupils in the high school. To take care of this number one, and perhaps two, additional teachers will be needed. This will necessitate removing the eighth grade which is now in the building since the high school will have to ues every room itself. There is no available room for this eighth grade at the Allen School. Therefore we are face to face with a building program of some sort.

OUR PROGRAM

The policies which actuate our administration of the schools have been indicated in the above account of the work of the past year. They are briefly summarized here. We believe these policies are right but we should welcome suggestions from any citizen.

1. Good health for every child by means of adequate medical inspection, follow-up work by the nurse, instruction in hygiene, and attention to the underweight children.

2. Thorough grounding in the fundamentals of education by means of competent instruction, adequate and purposeful drill, and intelligent application in the use of them.

3. Buildings and equipment in first class condition for school work. This includes an adjustable seat and desk for every pupil.

4. Development in each child of a sense of responsibility in his work and a spirit of courtesy, fair dealing, and altruism in his transactions with others.

5. Introduction of manual training, cooking, and sewing in grades 7 and 8, such courses to be continued through high school.

6. Just treatment of retarded and over-age pupils by means of special classes with instruction adapted to their needs. This is not a favor to them; it is their right to receive instruction to fit their condition. The schools seem to be in the situation of admitting all comers but catering to one class only—the normal or "average" pupil.

Again I wish to express my appreciation of the royal support given me by the School Board and by all others associated with me in the work of the schools.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED W. SMITH.

Report of

Headmaster of High School

To the Superintendent of Schools:

It is with pleasure that I submit the following report to the citizens of Rochester.

The school opened last September with but two changes in the faculty. Mrs. Nancie F. Evans has been elected to take Miss Williams' place as teacher of stenography and typewriting. Miss Caroline Cassidy succeeded Miss Emily C. Davis as teacher of Latin and Ancient History. The total enrollment for the present year is 300 which is 24 more than the total registration of last year. They are divided as follows: five post graduates, forty-two seniors, fifty-nine juniors, sixty-six sophomores and one hundred and twenty-eight freshmen. According to past reports the enrollment this year is the largest it has ever been with the exception of the year 1915, when the total registration reached 302.

I am glad to report that the standard of work of the various departments is superior to that of last year. The pupils are realizing more and more every day that the school room is a place of business, and also that punctuality, regularity, definiteness of purpose, and hard work are the major requirements of success.

The efficiency of Rochester High School could be very much meliorated by putting in a course in manual training, and also by lengthening the school day.

Today we are educating all the children of all the people, therefore our program should provide for all the children of all the people. At present, there are a number of pupils in Rochester High School asking for a manual training course. The sentiment of the pupils in regard to one phase of such a course has been well expressed in the November issue of the school paper, "Red and White." To quote from the school paper, "Citizens, perhaps you think it would be impractical to expend money for this innovation (meaning manual training.) On the other hand, do you realize that the help received would more than offset the expenditure? The citizens of Dover are much pleased with the benefits derived from manual training. Often, when anyone wishes a tea-wagon, a tray, a screen, or a book-case to be made, he takes the material for it to the school and has it constructed by the pupils. In doing this, he not only saves money, but he also affords the work which will enable the young men to become more skilled. Since the townsmen of our neighboring city have successfully tried this experiment, do you not think it would be wise for us to give it a trial?" A large percentage of the boys enter manufacturing and mechanical industries. Are not these pupils entitled to an elementary knowledge of building trades, of operating engineering, and of mechanics? The course would include such subjects as carpentry, designing, cabinet making, plumbing, electricity, steam engineering, electrical engineering, gasoline engineering, radio engineering, aeronautical engineering, auto repairing, and machinery.

The benefit derived from lengthening the school day would be that the students could do all of their studying in the school room under the supervision of the teachers. In other words a longer school day would give an opportunity for supervised study. It would give the teacher a chance to be a teacher in the sense of one who helps those under his instruction to secure knowledge, to acquire skill, to obtain insight, and to gain appreciation, rather than in the sense of one who is a hearer of lessons, an umpire in the game of learning, or a taskmaster who exacts his due.

There are various reasons why supervised study is desirable. Some of the important reasons are:

(1) The physical conditions of the home often make it practically impossible to concentrate on the assigned lessons. It is seldom that the high school pupil has a room entirely to himself in which he may do his studying. When there are several persons in the room in which the pupil is trying to do his work, there are many distractions and interruptions. Consequently he cannot study with concentrated and sustained effort. Time is wasted and undesirable habits of study are acquired.

(2) Home study repeatedly leads to irregular habits of work. The pupil studies when it fits into his other plans and those of his parents. Rarely has he regular study hours; at times his studying is postponed until the last minute, and then he gets what he can in an incited hour of effort. "It is a wonderful aid to study to have a definite place and a fixed time for doing school tasks."

(3) The undirected pupil often acquires blundering and wasteful methods of study. Learning by trial and error is a very wasteful and unsatisfactory method of acquisition. It is wasteful in that the learner consumes more energy than he should in doing his work; and also it is unsatisfactory in that he rarely acquires the best methods of study.

(4) Parents and friends often give the learner unwise aid. It is not uncommon for a pupil to ask aid of his father or mother in preparing his lessons for the next day. It often results that the helper does the work in whole or in part for the pupil, instead of showing him how to do it for himself. Pupils who rely on others to do their work for them are setting up a barrier to self-activity and self-reliance.

(5) Individual differences in abilities demand individual methods of help. Recent investigations in educational psychology show that pupils of the same age and grade differ greatly in general and in particular abilities. In supervised study the teacher has the opportunity of helping the individual.

Regular weekly meetings of teachers have been held thus far this year. They have been studying, "An Introduction to High School Teaching," by Colvin, which is one of the most valuable books written for high school teachers. This book emphasizes particularly general methods of instruction as they apply to the high school. The teachers are to be highly commended for their assistance in making the meetings of value and interest.

The musical clubs are doing more work this year than previously. There are sixty-six pupils registered in the clubs. They are divided as follows: Forty-five in the glee club, thirteen in the orchestra, and eight in the mandolin club. Each club has regular rehearsals every week. The pupils, who participate in these clubs and are regular in attendance, receive each year one third of a unit credit toward graduation.

Much interest is shown by the pupils in athletics especially now that there is a regular coach. Mr. Conlon has been relieved of part of his teaching, so that he can do the coaching. The games are well attended by the students.

The average daily absence for last year was 10.5. This means that there were 1,875 cases of absences, which is too many for a school with an average membership of only 233.7. However, I am glad to report that, although there was a larger average membership last year as compared with the previous year, there were 573 fewer cases of absences.

The purpose of the following table is to show the number and percentage of those who graduate from the grades and enter high school.

Year	No. graduated from 8th grade	No. entered H. S.	Percentage of graduates that entered H. S.
1918	113	83	73.45%
1919	95	65	68.42%
1920	88	65	73.86%
1921	107	91	85.05%

The above table shows that the percentage of the graduates from the 8th grade entering high school is increasing.

I am glad to report that the tardiness is decreasing.

Report of Supervisor of Music

To the Superintendent of Schools:

It is with pleasure that I submit this report.

The foremost educators of our country consider that, next to the "three R's," music is of the greatest importance. Everyone, whether musical or not, is in some way influenced by music. For these reasons our primary aim should be to create a lasting love and appreciation for the best in music.

The children enjoy the music, and it is a great inspiration to see how eager they are to sing well. The rooms have been supplied with the necessary music books.

Many pupils from all the grades took part in the singing at the Memorial Day exercises.

The Christmas carols and hymns are being taught more extensively and our pupils have learned many of them during the Christmas season.

Some of the grade pupils have met to form a grade orchestra. It is hoped that at the end of the school year that this will be well organized. One of the eighth grades has already formed a small orchestra of strings. Parents should encourage the children in outside study that they may more fully learn to appreciate and love good music.

In the High School, the orchestra, mandolin club, and girls' glee club, combined with a boys' chorus, furnished the commencement music. The members of these clubs are receiving credit, one-third of a unit a year, for rehearsals of one hour every week.

May I thank the teachers for their co-operation with me. Without this the good results for which we are all working could not be accomplished.

"A school song in the heart of a child will do as much for his character as a fact in his memory or a principle in intellect."—Phillips Brooks.

Respectfully submitted,

LOIS C. RICKETTS.

Report of Playground Supervisor

To the Superintendent of Schools:

Dear Sir:—In many cities the annual report of the playground department is largely defensive in character; but it is my belief that the following brief outline will show that, for the money expended by the school committee, full value has been received.

Because of the extent of the playground no accurate records can be kept, but the average daily attendance through the summer months was more than 200. Though the attendance was often greater during the first year, due largely to the newness of the playground idea, all sections of the city were represented during the past season. The natural advantages of Dominicus Hanson Park as a picnic ground have become so well appreciated that over thirty church and society picnics were held there this summer. With the opportunities for swimming and boating, the new dining pavilion, and the large grove, there is no better picnic ground in this vicinity. It was no uncommon sight during the warm days of the past summer to find over two hundred in swimming. In fact the number of boys and girls over twelve years of age that could not swim was extremely small.

To those who did not have a chance to inspect the playground last summer a brief report on the new equipment furnished by the local chapter of the Red Cross and the city government might be of value.

During the first season the Red Cross erected six of the best steel swings that can be procured, three teeters, and a slide. The city erected two bathhouses, which can each accommodate about twenty-five people. This year the Red Cross installed a set of four baby swings for small children and a gymnastic teeter for the girls. Two rocking boats were added to the equipment for little folks, and there was no time during the day when some of the equipment was not in use. Through the courtesy of Mr. C. A. C. Hanson, the gentleman who has made all this possible, a tennis court was laid out in the adjoining field which should be in perfect condition next season. Basketball, baseball, volley ball and various other games are provided for by the appropriation of the Red Cross.

The present administration of the city government is to be thanked for the roomy and centrally located dining pavilion, which can easily accommodate 60 people and furnishes shelter for many more during unexpected showers. The lumber used in the pavilion was secured from dead trees cut in the park. Two toilets were built and many more benches were distributed in the park. The underbrush was again cut out, and the park at all times presented a much neater appearance than is usually found in municipal parks. In this connection it might be interesting to note that there has been absolutely no vandalism during the two seasons. When children of any city can be taught to respect the rights of others and to refrain from damaging public property, the public spirit of the city is bound to be greatly improved.

We are told that when play has a definite purpose, it then becomes work. By means of careful supervision during the summer vacation much of the disciplinary value of school work may be carried over to the next school year. If this be true, the appropriation for playground supervision should be sufficient to permit the engagement of two supervisors who can take charge of folk dancing, story-telling, needlework, pageantry, swimming, sports, games, and the countless other activities that make playground work educational and pleasurable. Children are naturally active and are constantly in competition in one respect or another. In the larger cities much of their competing is done with the police, and it has proved good wisdom to capitalize the love of competition and self-activity on the playground. A small sum to be expended on prizes for various sports might well be included in the future appropriations.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES B. CONLON.
